Local interest is keen in "The Fall of Babylon" since it has been secured for a special engagement, here, and will be shown at the Breed theatre today and Saturday. Turning from the smoke and roar of battle in "Hearts of the World" Mr. Griffith has taken the historical Babylonian period as the background for the speciacular romance. "The Fall of Babylonian period as the background for the spectacular romance, "The Fall of Babylon," and has peopled his play with all the picturesque characters of that colorful era, with its dancing girls, its bacchanalian feasts of splendor, its high priests, the massive grandeur of its mighty walls, its charlot races, its bararre life and its intrigue, greed and treachery. Some idea of the magnitude of "The Fall of Babylon" may be gained from the announcement that more than 125,000 men and women appear in the tremendous scenes attending the Feast of Belshazmir, while almost countless thousands take part in the assault upon the walls during the great siege of Babylon.
